

Are Labor Shortages Your New Pandemic?

“Do more with less.” Employers everywhere have struggled to get the same amount of work done with fewer staffers. Facility management has it even worse, as they now have to shoulder additional sanitation and disinfection duties even as the number of staffers stays the same or shrinks.

Long-lasting filters from AAF Flanders require far fewer changeouts, giving your facility staff time to cross off other tasks from their checklist. With MEGApleat® air filters needing only 1-2 changeouts per year, you can forget about filters and focus on other to-do items.

Choosing a Different Air Filter Could Help.

Reduce your filter changeouts by up to 75%

Fewer filter changeouts not only means that you can buy fewer filters. It also means that:

- Your maintenance staff can perform other tasks, which is critical when it's increasingly difficult to hire and retain enough employees.
- Other staff in departments such as purchasing, receiving, and inventory control are similarly freed up to get more work done.

Long-Lasting Filters You Can Rely On

MEGApleat M9 filters are the highest-performing pleated filters on the market, maximizing usable life and energy efficiency to perform at a superior level in all environments.

- Rugged, heavy-duty construction includes moisture-resistant adhesive, die-cut frame, and galvanized, expanded metal support grid. Combined, these features ensure that MEGApleat outperforms other pleated filters in high-air pressure conditions, minimizing opportunities for bypass and failure.
- High dust-holding capacity to remain safely in use for an extended time, even in high-dust environments. This dust-holding ability maximizes the filter's life and energy efficiency throughout its lifetime.
